WOMEN'S W. S. S. ORGANIZATION TO START MUSICAL PROGRAM; LET'S WIN THAT $10,000 PRIZE

Rain interfered with the War Savings Stamp Women's Organization's musical program last night but plans have been made for tonight that will interest the people of the Fifth ward. A decorated truck carrying a piano and musicians together with a number of automobiles will visit the Fifth ward and give a number of musical selections. There will be a three minute speech at each stop and then an opportunity will be given for those in the audience to sign W. S. S. pledge cards. Tonight's musical program will be arranged and conducted by Miss Anna Hegerger. Mrs. James H. Fitzgibbon is leader of the special committee having the music in charge. Leading musicians of the city have gladly consented to take part in the program. Tomorrow evening another section of the city will be visited. If the weather is favorable programs will be given in different parts of town each evening this week.

The women have been so busy soliciting sales that they didn't stop last night to figure up Saturday's or Monday's totals. It is known that the pledges for the first two days amount to $45,000 and that the pledges now total a handsome sum. The women are determined to "put it over" and they will surely do so if their interest and enthusiasm continues.

The women solicitors 120 in number are to meet at Taylor Hall Thursday evening at 7 o'clock to make their reports. The girls of the Twentieth Century club have agreed to furnish refreshments at the close of the meeting.

The people are taking great interest in the strong possibility of winning that $10,000 Victory granite shaft that goes to the county selling the largest percentage of its W. S. S. quota this summer. As this county is near the top of the list of Ohio counties in sales and as everybody recognizes the value of W. S. S. Licking has a splendid chance to capture this fine prize. Hard work by the solicitors and a generous public response should bring the memorial shaft to this county. It is a prize worth straining every effort to get.

One hundred Newark women who are not on the sales force received letters this morning enclosing six pledge cards. Each is asked to secure six pledges before Thursday and to drop the cards into the mail box, without postage, after the pledges are made. These 100 women will render this little service and will be a great stimulus to the women's campaign.

The Newark women are going to show the men that they can do things and they are pointing the way for good work among the country women too. As soon as the townships are organized the women of the country and villages will make a W. S. S. drive. It now looks like the women of Licking county are going to have the credit of performing the last great war task and it will be a delightful experience if they too have the honor of bringing to this county that magnificent 30 foot granite shaft if the country women go to the work with the enthusiasm shown by the women of this city their success is sure.

Don't let anybody tell you that the war is over, that they have "given" all they can, that the government is wasting money etc. The government needs the money to pay the war bill and the people of this county are asked to loan their share at far interest rate. The soldiers didn't hesitate to do their full duty when the government called and those who remained at home should be glad to do their duty too.

Let everybody do his or her full duty, buy all the W. S. S. possible and buy them before August 30 so as to count in the Victory shaft contest. By buying stamps now one is not only making the best and safest sort of investment but is encouraging the women in a great patriotic work and is paving the way to bring honor to Licking county. If the people so will it and act promptly Licking county can win that $10,000 prize shaft. It would commemorate for all time our part in the great war. Remember this is Licking county's last war task. To rank 100 per cent we must take our quota of W. S. S. just as we did our quota of Liberty bonds. If all who bought the limit (200 W. S. S.) last year will do so again and if the people respond to this call and buy stamps liberally before August 30 the shaft will come to Licking county.

Miss Anna Sture, chairman of the third ward reports sales of $10,035 worth of war savings stamps and good prospects for more. Miss Sture and her workers are hustling and expect to make a great showing at the end of the campaign.

Mrs. Fred Wright, chairman of the Fifth ward reports sales of stamps amounting to $11,280. Mrs. Wright's solicitors are out with her and will turn in an additional sale report greatly increasing that total.

Mrs. J. O. Weekley of the First ward reports a sale of $2,035 worth of stamps. She has splendid prospects for more and with her workers will go after them which will materially add to the sale of stamps for the first ward.

The final report of all ward chairmen and workers will be asked for Thursday evening when they are requested to meet at Taylor Hall at 7:20 o'clock. The girls of the Twentieth Century club will serve refreshments.

In case of pleasant weather this evening Miss Anna Hegerger with a chorus of voices will give the Fifth ward giving tree concert. A speaker and solicitor will accompany the singers.

Mrs. Ida M. Chase of Franke, Va., is the purchaser of $200 worth of stamps, proving her loyalty to her old home town.

Mrs. Walter Bainbridge of the Sixth ward reported the sale of $15,000 worth of stamps up until noon today, which is certainly a most excellent showing.

Mrs. Evelyn Williams of 31 East Church street reports the selling of stamps for Brimley Back clubs for Ralph Davis of James street, Dan Dublin of Elmwood avenue, Ellis Beeson of Pataskala and Frederick J. Meers of Johnston, the latter being a nephew of Mrs. Williams.

BUTTONS PROVIDED FOR BY WAR VETERANS

Men who were accepted by the local draft board, but rejected at camps before entering on regular duty, thereafter, and conscientious objectors who refused to wear the uniform or perform military duty, will not be issued the "Victory buttons," but conscientious objectors who later accepted service will be entitled to same.

Word has been received that a service medal will be issued to National Guard soldiers for duty in the Spanish war and another for duty on the Mexican border in 1916; also, men who served on the border patrol in the regular army, 1916-1917, will be issued a similar medal if they are not already entitled to the Mexican campaign badge.

All soldiers of the regular army not entitled to the Spanish campaign badge, but who served at least 90 days during the Spanish war, will be issued a service medal.

ELLSWORTH ENTERS GOVERNORSHIP RACE

Rep. Franklin P. Ellsworth.

Representative Franklin P. Ellsworth, now serving his third term as member of the house, has announced his candidacy for governor of Minnesota. He is a member of the committee on interstate and foreign commerce of the house.

DEEDS REUNION.

The annual reunion of the Deeds family was held Saturday at the Chas. Deeds farm south of Granville.

The customary literary program was dispensed with and time given to sociability and inspection of the large, bombing war plane on exhibit through the courtesy of Col. E. A. Deeds.

After partaking of the splendid picnic dinner and interesting talk was given by Col. Deeds on war activities.

Mr. Rinehart accompanied by Col. Deeds then made the return trip to Dayton.

Union and Knox counties were well represented at the gathering.

Quite Right, Auntie!

Aunt Nancy listened with horror to the language of a fat old gentleman who had been forced to climb six flights of stairs to his office because the elevator wasn't running. "There," she said, sagely, "There is an example of what we may expect from a man who has had no bringin' up."

STORM CRIPPLES OHIO ELECTRIC

Lines East Paralyzed By Electrical Storm Monday
Afternoon — Rain Falls
Here.

Newark has been particularly fortunate during the past two days, when heavy storms in all the surrounding towns have done considerable damage. The needed rain arrived but the storm seems to have favored the town by ignoring it.

Yesterday afternoon this section was visited by a heavy rain storm and the surrounding community had big rains and electrical storms. The Ohio Electric suffered serious damage, when the storm east paralyzing traffic between Newark and Zanesville for about 7 hours. The Newark city cars were out for two hours during the supper hour, when a high tension wire in Pine street broke. The accident was caused by the heavy wind.

Between Columbus and Newark the Ohio Electric schedule was maintained normally.

At Zanesville one man was injured, two houses were wrecked, corn and wheat fields were damaged, telephone lines were torn down and the Ohio Electric railway was paralyzed. The storm was said to be the worst in years here. Norton Sheets, 48, a farmer residing in Norwich was rendered unconscious for nearly two hours when he was struck by lightning while on his porch.

The lightning entered the substations at Clay Lick, Pleasant Valley and Zanesville, burning out the electrical apparatus and no trains moved between Newark and Zanesville from 4 to 11:30 o'clock, and some trouble is being experienced this morning.

A high tension wire in Pine street was broken down by the wind storm, and until repairs could be effected, city car service was suspended for about two hours.

Lightning yesterday afternoon broke the high tension electric feed wire between Lancaster and Newark and put all electrical apparatus in Lancaster out of commission for several hours. Monday afternoon editions of Lancaster newspapers were issued this morning.

Milady's Boudoir

Proper Breathing.

Not one person in an hundred breathes as they should. They merely gasp for breath when they should be filling their lungs with fresh air with every inhalation. Women are obliged to make a deep breath, they do not take into their lungs enough fresh air to give their faces a good healthy tinge. Air is free. It may be indulged in night and day without fear of injury and every woman who desires to have a good complexion, as well as a healthy body, should make it a practice to breathe much and deep, both indoors and out.

Deep breathing tones up and strengthens the entire body. Fresh air means optimism, health and the joy of living. Because this is true, the business woman, the mother and every woman, may well devote a few minutes each day to building up her lungs so that they will be better able to perform their work. This development of the lungs is simple and very possible for anyone by following the little drills which may be practiced early in the morning or during spare moments during the day. Stand erect before an open window, the arms hanging loosely at the sides. Expel the air from the lungs until they feel empty. Now begin inhaling, at the same time raising the arms upward and outward until they are level with the shoulders. Hold this position while you mentally lower the arms, expelling the air from the body at the same time. Repeat this drill at least 15 times in succession.

After you have followed these exercises for two or three weeks your lung tissues will be ready for the next treatment. Stand in the same position as before, but instead of only raising the arms to the level of the shoulders, keep drawing them upward until they point directly upward, inhaling slowly at the time. Expel as in the earlier drill and repeat at least 15 times.

Legs down.

"Them city sharpers are a heap too smart for us country jakes," admitted the gent from Jimson Junction, upon his return from the Big Burg. "To be on the safe side, before I started from home I had a pocket made on the inside of my shirt, and put two $10 bills in it and sealed it up with court plaster. And I'll be Johnbrowned if somewhere along the line somebody didn't steal my $20, slick and clean! And what fumigates me is how in tunkett they got my shirt off and put it back on again without removing my coat and vest or even giving me a hint of it!"—Kansas City Star.

Peculiar Lawsuit.

Here is a queer cause for a law action. A man who was insane determined to throw himself out of the window of an asylum. He made several attempts and was prevented by the servants. Put in a new apartment, he tried again. Jumped out of the window, fell on the lawn and injured himself seriously, but, strange to say, the shock cured his mental disorder. At once he sued the officers of the asylum for negligence. The plaintiff was acquitted.

Indian Teller Bird.

A very curious nest is made by the teller bird of India, a tiny yellow creature. To escape snakes and monkeys this bird takes a dead leaf, flies up into a tree, and with a fiber for a thread and its bill for a needle sews the leaf to a green one hanging from the tree. The sides are sewn up, an opening to the nest thus formed being left at the top. The leaf, apparently hanging from a twig, would never be taken for a nest.

Cavertious Housewife.

"Don't expect a wife always to be the listener," advises Woodford Black. Certainly not. Wives have to sleep occasionally. The fact is, the law ought to punish those cavertious husbands who talk their wives to death, sometimes too.

LET US WIN THAT $10,000 VICTORY SHAFT

Licking county people last year bought $1,500,000 worth of War Savings Stamps. The county's quota was $1,236,000 last year. Licking county entered the "Victory List" on October 30 and was the first Ohio county with a population of over 50,000 to do so.

If Licking county "went over" by October 30 last year it is able to do it again this year by September 1st, and if it does, the $10,000 Victory Shaft should come to Licking county.

Having oversubscribed all of the Victory Loans, Licking county people should take pride in maintaining a perfect war score. This is the last war job and it must not be shirked. Let's subscribe our quota of WSS promptly and then buy the stamps before Sept. 1st, so as to clinch that $10,000 prize.

Last year nearly 700 Licking county people bought the limit—200 stamps. Every one of them is entitled to buy 200 of this year's issue. Every person in the county, whether he bought stamps last year or not, is privileged to purchase not to exceed 200 stamps of the 1919 issue.

The women of Newark have been working unceasingly for several days, selling War Savings Stamps, and they propose to keep right on until Victory comes. As soon as the country districts are all organized there will be a drive in the townships. In those townships where women have accepted chairmanships the organization is well under way.

Pride in maintaining a perfect war score, pride in doing what the government asks, will put Licking county over the top again in this campaign. If by united effort Licking county is able to sell the largest percentage of its quota during June, July and August, the reward will be a $10,000 granite shaft which will stand here for all time to commemorate this county's part in the world war. It is not only possible to win this fine prize, but is entirely probable. Licking, without having scratched more than the surface, now ranks in eleventh place among the 88 counties in Ohio. The ten counties ahead of Licking haven't the field to work that we have here because their field is already well worked. If one buys $1,000 worth of stamps of this issue he can't do it again. There should be no fear of the larger cities because the award will be made upon a percentage basis and the medium sized counties always have scored a better percentage than the larger centers.

If the people want to win this memorial, hard work should bring it here.

The Newark Women's organization is the job and the sales reports promise to be very encouraging. The women are to meet in Taylor Hall, Y. M. C. A. building next Thursday evening at 7 o'clock to submit their reports.

All purchases and pledges made in June will be credited to the women. All purchases to count in the Victory Shaft must be made in June, July and August. If the reader has been missed by a solicitor a pledge may be signed at any bank or at the postoffice and credit for it will be given to the women.

Buy WSS now—the world's very best investment. Help to maintain our county's proud position in War activity. Help to win that magnificent Victory shaft. A pull together will bring the result.

REPUBLICANS AND THE LEAGUE.

The country is sick and tired of the factious spirit that has been shown upon the question of the League of Nations.

President Wilson is going to receive credit for formulating in a practical way, an idea in which the great majority of the people have always believed. Most of the Republican leaders have endorsed the proposal at one time or another. But when it comes to accepting some definite plan, they proceed to load it down with amendments that if adopted are likely to kill it. It will look to most sensible people, as if dislike of President Wilson was the underlying cause of the attitude of a good many people.

Some of the Republican leaders have placed themselves in a most absurd position. While the war was on, they laid down the most drastic terms in vowing a complete reshaping and reorganization of Europe.

Then the question arose who was going to do this tremendous job that they had laid out? Manifestly, such great tasks could only be accomplished by a general union of nations. Then when Mr. Wilson attempted to formulate the plans for such a union to carry out these various objects, these gentlemen who had been making these strenuous demands, at once began to back water. They began to oppose the only means by which their principles could be carried out.

Thus their attitude toward the enforcement of their ideas became very much like Anna Wadsworth, who felt so deeply about a prison war that he was willing to sacrifice all his wife's relations. The Republican leaders demand that certain principles be enforced in Europe. But when it comes to forming a league to enforce these principles they withdraw into the traditional American isolation and began to quote the old saw about entangling alliances. These leaders are very like that large class of people who have always favored prohibition, but are against its enforcement.

SENATOR LODGE.

Senator Henry Cabot Lodge received a communication from the government of Rome protesting against the disposition of the airport made in the peace conference and reading it in the senate had it made a part of the Congressional Record.

This is the first time in the history of the Republic that a foreign government or foreign people has ever addressed this government except through the proper channels, the state department. And no one knows this better than Senator Lodge. The senator never gave evidence of guilty conscience when he declared that he did this because the peace council presumed to interfere in American affairs (meaning the Monroe doctrine).

The disinterested of the world can find sanctuary in the Lodge fold. The element with a complaint to make against the peace conference, against anything that the President of the United States has sought to do with, find welcome in the Lodge sanctum. It is now the established policy of the Republican leaders.

Senator Lodge is one of those leaders of the Republican party who applauded for the election of the Republican candidates for house and senate last fall, promising to stand by the President and promising aid and assistance in the reconstruction measures necessary at the close of the world war.

Instead of help, the Republican leaders have devoted their entire time during the absence of the nation's chief executive abroad in the interest of the welfare of humanity and the peace and security of America and all the world, trying to embarrass him, trying to make the world believe that he no longer has the support of the people of the United States. It is a gigantic attempt to ruin the president and with him the party that he so nobly has led, with the 1920 presidential election as the goal. And the future peace of the world, the speedy conclusion of peace negotiations and restoration of business throughout the world, mean nothing to the bitter partisans at the Republican helm.

It is a desperate game they are playing. So great is their zeal that they will stop at nothing to attain their ends. It may not be reasonable tactics, but it borders very closely thereon and if continued there is a certain repudiation in store at the hands of their own party without the Democratic party being called upon to do the job.

THE DRURY BILL.

It now looks like the Republicans in the state senate are a little afraid of the Drury bill which abolishes the state highway commission. This pernicious, vicious and altogether indefensible piece of legislation was railroaded through the house. It was introduced and rushed through the passage without notice and without a hearing being held.

The advisory commission is composed of two Democrats and two Republicans. They serve for a salary which hardly pays their expenses to and from Columbus once or twice a week when they meet. Yet their service is of vast importance for they pass upon all contracts and have to do with the distribution of the state aid to various counties of the state. They must approve the millions spent by the highway commissioner. It would be against all public policy to permit one man to disburse the millions Ohio spends for good roads.

As soon as the Drury bill passed the house the Republicans commenced to hear from home. The advisory board has brought about a more equal distribution of the roads money and the people know it. Some of the Republican members are having a frightful time trying to present an alibi for their votes to remove the commission in the senate. It is said, enough senators have gotten their ears to the ground and switched to prevent the passage of the measure. If passed, on orders of the Republican state committee, the bill awaits the certain veto of the governor.

THE REPEAL OF LUXURY TAXES.

(Springfield Republican)

That congressional leaders in both parties were hasty in promising their support of the early repeal of the semi-luxury tax is now being realized. This tax is capable of producing a revenue of $100,000,000 a year, and, unpopular as the tax may be, the government will need that $100,000,000.

Government expenditures are being reduced, of course. In May the ordinary demands upon the treasury were $750,000,000 less than in January. Future appropriations are being cut down, especially for the army and navy. But government expenditures must still be covered somehow by congress, and the money will have to be raised by loans if not by taxation. The interest payments on the public debt call for a prodigious sum which did not have to be paid by congress before the war. How long an American army must be maintained in Europe is uncertain, but it is very expensive to maintain while it is there. The railroad administration, says the director general, must now have $1,200,000,000 to pay its bills. Mr. Hurley is asking congress for $600,000,000 to complete the shipbuilding program.

The more the taxes are reduced in this period the more the government will be forced to borrow. There will not be an other great loan "drive" according to the secretary of the treasury, yet he will be forced, as government finances stand to borrow repeatedly in the next few years in order to make good the government's obligations. The officer he places him and the more money he borrows, the less real capital will there be for business enterprise and the longer will the country have to wait for credit and currency deflation and a fall of prices. For every billion the treasury borrows, moreover, the load of interest charges on the treasury will mount up proportionally. Taxes collected by the government, on the contrary, never have to be paid back principal and interest for taxing means keeping.

The matured judgment of the congressional leaders according to reports, is now opposed to the repeal of the semi-luxury tax, although Chairman Vreeland is trying to push the repeal through the house against strong opposition. If Senator Penrose, chairman of the senate finance committee, is against repeal, he is showing good financial judgment. The tax is annoying to the public, but the tax is an emergency measure to collect. If the semi-luxury tax is now repealed, there are other taxes of a similar nature that could be repealed with equal justification. Until there is a peace understanding at least of the government's financial position and prospects, the fewer taxes congress can cancel the better for the treasury.

RESPONSIBILITY FOR TURKEY.

(New York Times)

The lately published statement by former Ambassador Penfield on the disposition to be made of Turkey contains a great deal of sound common sense which the peace conference has somewhat seemed likely to overlook in its bewilderment with infinite detail. The heart of the matter is that the Turks have no business in Europe and ought to be moved out bodily. "For a quarter of a century," says Mr. Penfield, "the Turkish empire has been a diplomatic nuisance, but seldom had acquaintance with ambassador, minister or lesser functionary who, beneath the surface, was not an ardent German propagandist." He reminds us, too, that the sudden outburst of contrition and friendship for the entente in Turkey did not make its appearance until Allenby had annihilated the army in Syria and Franchot d'Esperey had torn open the flank of Turkey in Europe. To leave the Turk in Constantinople means leaving a potential ally of Germany in a position to make much trouble if Germany attacks the world again.

There is likely to be quite general agreement with Mr. Penfield's view that America has no call to take over the straits. He fears that the mandate for Constantinople will be unduly involved with the collection of the Turkish debt, and that is a matter which America has no concern. Britain, France, Italy and Greece are the four nations most interested, and Mr. Cernizelos and his colleagues have sufficient resources of statesmanship to shoulder what is a peculiarly European responsibility.

Armenia is a different matter. Mr. Penfield favors an American mandate for Armenia but a purely temporary one; only long enough "to make certain that the native administration is properly organized and controlled by capable men." This, he thinks, would take eight or ten years, and in view of the ability of the Armenian race there is no reason to suppose that it would take more time than that to put Armenia thoroughly on her feet. In any case American solicitude for Armenia is a matter of sympathy and not of interest, and Mr. Penfield reinforces Mr. Cernizelos in this assertion that America should not mix humanitarianism and politics. To get the Turk out of Europe is to our interest as well as to that of Europe, but to take charge of his estate is an enterprise that may be left to the power which has a direct and immediate interest in the reversion.

SLOW PROGRESS AT PARIS.

(By Henry Clews)

The peace treaty has been made public and furnished no surprises. Delay in signing is disappointing but beyond question the Germans will sign; appeals from a nation that never practiced mercy having no effect upon those who have suffered so cruelly. Progress on the League of Nations is also so slow, and efforts in the senate to interfere with negotiations have met with scant sympathy among thoughtful Americans. That some internal friction exists at Paris is quite evident, and appears to be largely due to French fears of future German invasion, also Italian ambitions on the Adriatic. Both countries are indulging in plans that have very remote foundation. The German Empire has been literally smashed, and its power for harm destroyed for generations to come by the heavy loss of territory, population and resources, not to speak of the League of Nations whose power Germany is not likely to provoke. Italy also has no further reason to fear Austria so that both France and Italy can afford to make concessions that would seem prudent establishment of the League. Mr. Wilson's return to the United States would quickly follow and is much needed. The new congress is hard at work having already passed a greatly amended appropriation bill, made partial provision for the railroads and economized considerably on army and navy appropriations, all of which are steps in the right direction.

America has saved the world from the threat of famine, also the intensest horrors that would have trailed after such a calamity. The June report of the Department of Agriculture indicated a total wheat crop of 1,238,000,000 bushels, which though somewhat below the expectations of a month ago is more than 200,000,000 bushels greater than the previous record crop of 1915. The decline for the month was attributed to rain and all other conditions. It was not serious and will probably leave a surplus for export of 600,000,000 bushels to satisfy the hunger of Europe, whose production abilities have been grievously impaired by war and loss of man power.

The great crop is distinctly the fruit of the government guarantee of $2.26 per bushel the promise of favorable weather conditions and the fact of a large increase in acreage. The wheat crop will gain enormously by this government loan. Prosperity will undoubtedly be widely distributed in the agricultural districts through the enormous foreign demand upon us for all food supplies. By the way, certain and certain we have effectually prevented a disastrous famine in Europe, our armies hastened the defeat of Germany; our ship convoy system lessened submarine losses, our munition plants released millions of shells for fighting purposes, our ships carried supplies safely across; our banks aided finance the war; we furnished great quantities of oil, copper, cotton and other materials to the allies, and our government placed the entire forces of this powerful nation wholeheartedly upon their side. When the history of the World War is fully written, it will be recognized without stint that without American help in men, money and materials the war would not have been won.

Spirit of the Press

Any Name Suits.

It makes no difference to the Allies and America whether Germany calls its payments "reparation" or "indemnity." It collected indemnity from France and there is no reason why it should not now pay indemnity. For home consumption it may use the word "reparation" instead, but the fact will not be changed. Germany has not wealth enough to pay for all the damage it has done, but it will pay as much as the Allies can collect from it, and the Allies and America are very little whether the payment shall be called "reparation" or "indemnity." Nations that expect to make money out of war, and even make war for the expected profit, must pay the costs so far as their resources go when they have no bad luck to get licked.—Philadelphia Record.

Destructive Forces at Work.

It is time for organized communities to realize that the social fabric is being attacked by disintegrating forces, and that, unless they defend themselves, the present order of civilized life will pass away in a flux of destruction and chaotic experimentation. After this has run its course, society will have to reconstruct itself painfully and return to the principles of responsibility and intelligent subordination, by which alone civilized life can survive or man progress. But America ought to be intelligent enough to avoid this reaction, even though it is in the guise of progress.—Chicago Tribune.

Legislature Also Extends Presidential Suffrage In 1920 If Amendment Is Not Effective Then.

GRANVILLE

(Special To The Advocate)
Granville, June 17.—The women of this community have accepted the obligation assumed by the women's division of the county to make the drive for the sale of War Savings stamps. The organization will be completed in a day or two and Granville will be asked to help back the distinction she enjoyed last year of holding the United States record for the per capita sale of stamps. Licking county wants the memorial shirt and it wants to be rated as 100 per cent efficient in its war work.

Interest centers in the recital to be given this evening in the Baptist church by the piano pupils of Mrs. Mabel C. Ashton, at 8 o'clock. The program, which includes some 30 performers, has been so arranged as to require only the usual length of time, and to promote a real treat. No cards have been issued.

Contrary to their usual custom of leaving Granville as soon as commencement is over, a large number of the Granville faculty are still in the village. Professor and Mrs. E. H. Bowman expect to remain here during most of the summer, as they will leave in the fall for the car. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. Tanner, who are now occupying the Robinson house in the Park drive addition, will remain here during most of the summer, as they will leave in the fall for the car. Dr. and Mrs. R. H. McKibbin. Miss Clara Arnold of New York with her little son Neil and Miss Ruth McKibbin of Cleveland who have been in the family house party depart last night.

Miss Martha Frank has gone to Mansfield where she will attend the wedding of her nephew, Miss Harriet Frank, to Mr. William C. Fisher on Wednesday evening. The ceremony in the church will be followed by a reception at the home. Miss Frank will remain a week as the guest of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Edwin F. Hall.

GO BACK TO EPSOM SALTS

Delicious now! Like drinking glass of lemonade

Instead of asking for the common Epsom Salts, ask for Epsom Salts hereafter. You will get a big bottle for only 15 cents. Epsom Salts looks and acts exactly like Epsom Salts, because it is Epsom Salts combined with fruit derivatives thus making a sparkling, effervescent, lemonade-like drink for the liver and bowels. Take a tablespoonful of this delicious Salts in a glass of cold water when you feel bilious, sick headache, constipated and get the quick and certain action of a dose of Epsom Salts without the horrible taste. Epsom Salts will replace the old Epsom Salts, Rochelle Salts, Sodium Phosphate and Cathartic Pills in every home, say local druggists. (Adv.)

Miss Margaret expects to return to Denison in the fall.

Mrs. Christine G. Lamm left for Newark, N. J., on Sunday morning.

FIGHTERS TO HAVE DAY IN SELECTING REFEREE

(ASSOCIATED PRESS TELEGRAM) Toledo, June 17.—Jesse Willard and Jack Dempsey will have a voice in selecting a referee to judge their heavyweight championship contest here July 4, despite the persisting impression that the third man in the ring will be chosen by the Army, Navy and Civilian Board of Boxing Control. This developed today when the board, in an evening promoter Rickard's invitation to pick the officials for the contest, advised that both boxers be consulted before a definite selection is made. The board's letter in this regard says: "A list of referees, who in the opinion of the board possess the requisite qualifications for the important task in view, will be submitted forthwith to Willard and Dempsey for their consideration and from those whom they actually approve, the board will make its selection."

THOSE "NEW" LITTLE GIRLS

Their Grownup Ways Started Old-Fashioned Women on a Pessimistic Train of Thought.

The Woman Who Sees had just bought a new veil and had hurried into the dressing room of the shop to adjust it, says the New York Sun. Crowds of women were edging their way to the mirrors to preen themselves. She managed to squirm into a space just vacated by a gorgeous creature in purple velvet. As she glanced into the mirror she noticed two youngsters standing beside her. They were both sweet-looking little things. "Not a day over fourteen," she murmured to herself, and then stared with wonder. The elder of the two pulled out a tiny vanity case and proceeded to powder the tip of her pert little nose. She next arranged a curl over her shoulder to its very best advantage, while her companion stood back admiringly. Then she preened her eyebrow with the tips of her fingers and smiled complacently. She was pretty and she knew it.

"Are you going to the frat meeting Monday evening, Dot?" queried her companion. Dot raised an eyebrow and drawled nonchalantly, "Perhaps, dearie; it depends entirely on the mood I'm in." That was the straw that broke the camel's back. The woman gave a convulsive gasp and literally bolted. Moods! She was amused and yet it was pitiful. She is not an advocate of corporal punishment, but she would have enjoyed spanking those youngsters. What kind of women will they make? The woman is puzzled.

CAESAR'S WORK IN GERMANY

Record of Famous Roman Conqueror When He Drove the Teutons Out of Flanders.

Both the American army of occupation and the German people are anxious to know just how long the khaki-clad visitors are to remain. Since no intimation comes from those in authority both of them might recall that one Julius Caesar drove the Teutons out of Flanders, in fact, he mentions a victory at Mont Auxois, says Kansas City Star. He, too, followed them right up to the Rhine, built a bridge in ten days, crossed over and took possession of the valley on the "right bank," spread out his legions to police the "treacherous inhabitants." That was in 50 B. C., and the Roman army remained 400 years. All that time flotillas of galleys were cruising up and down the Rhine. The army of occupation put the Germans to building bridges, aqueducts and castles under its direction, and the ruins of these great works now can still be seen in the valley of the Moselle. The presence of the Romans was a blessing to the Germans, however, for they pursued a liberal policy toward them, after having collected a tribute of 40,000,000 sesterces or approximately $1,500,000 for their treachery, taught them to read, to take a bath and to shave.

"Earthquake Proof" Hotels.

A chain of "earthquake proof" hotels, sufficiently magnificent to win the approval of fastidious South Americans, is to be constructed immediately by the United Hotels company, which already operates many hostleries on this half of the continent. Sites in seven countries—Chile, Peru, Brazil, Uruguay, Paraguay, Bolivia and Colombia—have been selected, and the first hotel—palatial, to judge from the architect's drawing—will be built at Lima, at a cost of $2,000,000. This is one of the largest projects ever undertaken by a hotel syndicate, and both the United States government and the South American governments interested will afford co-operation. The hotel at Lima will be one of re-enforced concrete, supported by enormous cement foundations, capable, the company believes, of offering good resistance to the disturbances of the earth's surface to be expected in those regions.—New York Evening Post.

Walk for Health.

Girls and women who walk to and from their places of employment do not, as a rule, suffer from headaches or other kindred ills. Indeed, excellent authority assures us that walking will do more to keep the average person in good physical trim than all the high-priced tonics on the market. Of course, where one has to ride several miles to one's office or workshop, going "afoot" is out of the question, but the young woman who lives within reasonable distance of her place of employment should give street cars and trains a wide berth.

Antiprobibitionist.

In Little Marie's home the advantages and disadvantages of the "wet" and "dry" have been discussed with much fervor.

When, during Sunday morning service, Marie demanded a drink and her mother informed her quietly, but firmly, that she could not have one, Marie inquired anxiously in a stage whisper: "Can't I never have another drink, now that the country's gone dry?"

Kettle Brings $30,000.

A Japanese kettle, once owned by Kikyo, brought $30,000 when the Matsuzawa collection of antiques was sold at public auction in the Tokyo Art club not long ago. Connoisseurs to the number of 500 attended from Osaka, Kioto, Kobe and Tokyo, and the competition was very keen, according to the Japan Bulletin.

SYSTEM BUILDER GIVES STRENGTH

There are many cases of ill health in which there is no organic trouble or specific disease and in which a general tonic or system builder is all that is needed to restore the health. That was the experience of Mrs. Christine Barth, of No. 614 Smith avenue, Canton, Ohio, who tells how she recovered from a general breakdown as follows: "I had been working hard and had worried a great deal over relatives who were in the army. I became very weak and couldn't keep anything on my stomach. At times I suffered from dizzy spells. The weakness increased until I was obliged to take to my bed. "I tried several remedies but without any improvement in my condition and finally my father urged me to take Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. There was a decided improvement in my health after the first box. My appetite was better and I was able to sleep soundly and restfully. I gradually recovered my strength and the pains and aches disappeared. I am now able to do my work and feel as well as ever. I strongly recommend the remedy."

When the blood lacks red corpuscles a course of treatment with Dr. Williams' Pink Pills will cause them to increase. This can be demonstrated by a microscopic examination or anyone can prove it by looking in a mirror, for an increase in red blood shows quickly in the cheeks and especially in the lining membranes of the eyelids.

Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are sold by all druggists, and will be sent by mail, postpaid, on receipt of price, 50 cents per box; six boxes, $2.50. Dr. Williams Medicine Co., Schenectady, N. Y. The booklet, "Building Up the Blood," will be mailed free on request.

Our Boys and Girls

Grown people often aggravate the little aches and pains of children by making too much of them. It would be better if they would turn the mind of a child off most of these troubles and ailments. The principal applies just as well to youth as it does to childhood.

It would be better for all concerned if people, young and old, did not give publicity to their physical ills. It will be granted that a child has a serious complaint it ought to be discovered early. But the best way for the parent to discover it is to learn the signs of serious circumstances so that she can read them without asking the child whether he feels bad.

A parent ought to be able to tell when a child has a fever or when he is not being properly nourished, or when he has a long continued pain due to malfunction of some kind. The less said to the child about these things, the better, unless his case is unusual. The child's health should be in the keeping of parents, teacher and medical inspection.

Every Day Etiquette

"When should a bride acknowledge her wedding gifts?" asked Madge.

"Even though a bride is a busy individual social etiquette allows her no respite in its demand that she acknowledge her wedding gifts promptly. Whether the gift comes from friend or stranger to the bride is she who must write a note of thanks. It is possible to acknowledge it as soon as received," said her mother.

WHEN BEATTY PUT TO SEA

Like Drake of Old, Commander of British Fleet Left the Tennis Court for Battle.

Scarcely had I arrived at Aberdour when I learned that some unusual report had come in from the sea. Lieutenant Hunter writes in the World's Work. The admiral had arrived before me and continued to talk on his open wire for some moments. The fleet at once dropped from four to two and one-half hours' notice for steam and shortly afterward was making preparation for departure at a moment's notice. When Sir David came out to the tennis court he suggested that I need not answer the recall signal from my ship as expected, but return with him. "I don't believe they intend to shove off without me," he added. We started our game, but over the wire the admiral had thrown the fleet into the kennels and already the leaders of that great pack, so apparently listless a short hour before, were bristling and snarling on the new-found trail. With a pleasant smile Admiral Beatty jerked his racket toward the Firth. From the court which overlooks the entrance could be seen the first of the screening groups as they slipped quietly to sea. Division followed division, as destroyers, light cruisers and scouts passed on to their appointed tasks. The grand fleet was in motion. In motion at the direction of its great commander in chief, who, while actually commanding his fleet by wire, was also my partner in a game of tennis. Messages came to him too often for his liking, as far as the game was concerned. Several he dispatched in reply, but it soon became too hot, forcing departure for a sterner game.

A cablegram received today from Paris announced that General Pershing has cited Lieut. Francis Macmillen, the distinguished American volunteer, for "particularly meritorious and consistent service" without distinction. He is expected home soon, enlisted in the United States army immediately on our entry into the war, coming early to France as a member of the Corps of Interpreters. He speaks five languages. His duties took him to nearly all the points of action along the western front. Since the armistice, he has been acting as assistant provost marshal at Marseilles.

Lieutenant Macmillen is well known in Newark having appeared here in concert.

DEMAND NOW IS FOR MUSIC

Freak Attire and Mannerisms No Longer Attract Streams of Dollars to the Concert Hall.

It looks as if the old order of musicians will soon be moss covered. The touts headed individual in freak attire does not find his camouflaged personality a passport to capacity houses. If the dead composers had messages for modern humanity the messages must be interpreted by modern men and modern women.

The musician of today looks like a smart business or professional man rather than an idle dreamer, observes the Philadelphia Record. He is as good a customer as the barber has. Short cropped hair is supplanting the shaggy locks of former days. The schoolboy's Windsor tie and low collar have given way to the neat four in hand and regular business man's collar. The Buffalo Bill chapeau is ousted by the conventional fedora. Odd mannerisms which serve no useful purpose are cast off.

The modern musician is a good mixer. He wants to know his public first hand, and he enters into the general life of the community instead of acting the recluse. By mingling he has learned that people now want music, not gesticulations nor dress. Concert goers are more concerned about what they hear than what they see. An artist's reputation for freakishness off the stage does not offset poor execution on the stage. The music-loving public has developed to the point where sham and pretense are useless. Nothing but the ability to produce good music can get past.

Censor Mun Telephone Talks.

At first, all use of telephones was forbidden to the inhabitants of occupied towns (of Germany), but this rule has been relaxed also. In the French zone the natives are allowed telephone calls within their own city; while in Coblenz the Americans allow this and also permit the use of five trunk lines from the occupied territory into Germany proper. Thus a German in Coblenz may talk directly to a German in Berlin.

Except in cases of extreme personal necessity, all such calls are supposed to be confined to the transaction of important business, and of course American army censors "listen in" on every call. This privilege was given to the Germans of Coblenz because it was found that the sudden and complete interruption of contact between the two banks of the Rhine caused a great deal of inconvenience and suffering. Gregory Mason in Outlook.

Starting Something.

The household was comparatively quiet when the ten-year-old son looked up from the last page of a recent issue of the News and inquired of both parents sitting near: "What's funny about this here 'Abe Martin'?" "There's never anything 'f' out in a home where the wife is on an allowance," "The joke, my son," his father replied, "is that instead of spending the allowance for eats, the wife blows it in for clubs, clothes, candy and conventions." "No, son," said the mother, "the fact is that the allowance is not large enough to provide a hotel menu, though the men seem to think it is. And that is no joke, either."—Indianapolis News.

Bullet in Brain Twenty Years.

After living for 20 years with a bullet in his brain, Edgar Wilgus, an insurance broker of Trenton, N. J., was killed by a 5 foot fall on the granite steps of a New York hotel. The medical examiner, discovering the bullet in the man's brain, thought at first that he had been unconsciously shot, but learned by telephoning to his home how long he had carried the bullet in his head.

Ohio has been dry two weeks and has not yet taken up a petition to end the drought sufferers. Chicago News.

Francis Macmillen GETS A CITATION

NEWARK SOLDIER WORKS IN PARIS R. R. STATION

Corporal A. R. McCoy, son of Mrs. Pauline Patterson, 43 South Williams street, spent his days in France in tracing freight car reserves compartments on the American special, which runs from Paris to Menton, and in his odd moments does stenographic work, according to a letter received by his mother recently. He was recently discharged from an army hospital. His letter says:

"May 8, 1919.
"This is Thursday and I am at the R. T. O. railway transport office at the Gare de Lyon station. However, I am not on my way home, as you would suppose. I am working here. After getting out of the hospital I was not needed badly at the baggage bureau where I was working, so they transferred me here. The work is the kind of work one would do around a passenger station.

"I look up freight records and locate cars in the morning. Just after dinner I help with the reservations on an American special which runs from Paris to Menton. The work is very easy. In the afternoon I work in the office doing stenographic work. Our lieutenant here is a fine fellow to work for. It is an everyday job, but we can get off when we wish. I came here Monday, this week. For two reasons I like it much better than the baggage bureau: (1) there is more opportunity to learn French; (2) I get to know France through and through, which will be worth knowing. There are now six railroads in France all running into Paris. This P. L. M. where I am working is one of the best in France. Of course the railroads are a back number when you come to compare them with the ones in the U. S. A. Then the experience one will get will be of value if he should desire to take up work along this line."

CORPORAL A. R. MCCOY.

SUGGESTS PRICES U. S. SHOULD PAY

William M. Ritter.

William M. Ritter, of West Virginia, formerly head of the hardwood lumber section of the war industries board, is a new member of the industrial board of the department of commerce, which will suggest the prices the government will pay for principal commodities during the post-war readjustment period.

AMUSEMENTS

GEM.

Charles Ray has been seen in many Paramount pictures produced by Thos. H. Ince and in every case he has given screen patrons signal satisfaction. His next appearance will be in "The Claws of the Hun" at the Gem today. This is a war picture but it is about the happenings in our own country.

TOMORROW.

According to advance reports, the Gem theatre is to have another important photoplay tomorrow. On that day will be shown a new William Fox star, Albert Ray, and a new leading lady, Ethel Lynn. They will be seen in a comedy drama called "Married in Haste."

GRAND.

Jean Paige, whose excellent work as star in a number of O. Henry features you her a host of photoplay friends and who later appeared in support of Alice Joyce, has a most appealing role in "Beating the Odds," the Harry T. Morey picture which will be seen in the Grand theatre today and tomorrow. "Beating the Odds" is adapted from "The Money Maker," the widely read novel written by Irving B. Allen, and tells the story of the strong man who was reclaimed by love of a good woman. In addition will be shown Ethel Lynn and Joy Belasco in "For the Love of Money."

ALHAMBRA.

"A Fallen Idol" began a two days' engagement at the Alhambra theatre yesterday. This is the latest and best of the William Fox photoplays in which shown Wednesday and Thursday at the Alhambra theatre.

"Day Dreams."

Madge Kennedy, the irresistible artist, comes to the Alhambra beginning Friday, in her latest Goldwyn Picture, "Day Dreams," by Cosmo Hamilton. Her thousands of local admirers are promised the pleasure of seeing her in situations different from any in which she has been enmeshed in previous Madge Kennedy successes. She is Primrose, who dwells in a fairyland she has built for herself. Men of wealth, who seek her hand in marriage are repulsed while she dreams of the white knight, who is coming to make her his princess and sail with her to his castle across the sea.

AUDITORIUM.

"The Marriage Ring." The admirers of sweet Enid Bennett turned out in force when that popular and talented Ince-Paramount star appeared at the Auditorium theatre in her newest photoplay, "The Marriage Ring," yesterday. The success of the picture was instantly established and it is safe to say that Miss Bennett's portrayal in this production is one of the best of her screen career. The personality of Miss Bennett served to emphasize the artistry of her impersonation of the role of Anne Mertons, the girl wife of a scoundrelly gambler and all-round crook who employs her as a tool in fleeing wealthy men whom he entices into his net. When conscience awakes she resolves to quit her environment and this results in a quarrel with her husband. He threatens to kill her and in a struggle over a revolver the weapon is discharged and the man falls apparently dead. Anne goes to Hawaii where she

HARRY T. MOREY
Vitascope Star in
"BEATING THE ODDS"

His Father," "His Mother's Boy," "The Hired Man," and now "The Family Skeleton" will be shown at the Auditorium theatre beginning Wednesday.

Auditorium-Alhambra Notes.
Manager Fenberg has arranged a novelty in the way of one-reel special called "Vod-Vil" in which five parts of clever vaudeville is displayed on the screen. This feature will be shown every Wednesday and Thursday at the Alhambra in conjunction with a 5-reel photoplay.
The Prizma feature to be shown at the Alhambra this week is the wonderful "Dahlia" from Miss Bessie Boston at San Mateo, Calif. It is shown together with Madge Kennedy in "Day Dreams," a Goldwyn feature.
The next big feature, or special picture feature coming to the Auditorium theatre is Maurice Tourneur's amazing production, "Woman," stirring, yet an artistic presentation of a mighty subject. A photoplay of splendor, feminine loveliness and thrills.

The article was copied from the Dayton Daily News: "All these Dayton people have had goitre removed with Sorbol-Quadruple. Any of them will gladly tell you their experience: Mrs. Louise Will, 228 Gettysburg ave.; Mrs. C. A. Barnard, 117 Clay st.; Mrs. Hattie Marshall, 1236 Xenia ave.; Miss Hubbs Doherty, East Hesse st.; Mrs. G. A. Barnard, 218 Gettysburg ave.; Mrs. Hester Hapgood, 529 Steele ave.; Mrs. Alice Hambrich.

Sorbol-Quadruple comes in small bottles containing enough for most cases. It will not stain or irritate the skin. It dissolves the goitre, the impurities passing out through the system. Requires ten minutes daily.
If you are interested it would pay you to go to Dayton and see some of the people. Get further information at T. J. Evans' and drug stores everywhere, or write Sorbol Company, Mechanicsburg, O. Adv.

A FALLEN IDOL
WILLIAM FOX PRODUCTION

ENID BENNETT in "The Marriage Ring"
A Paramount Picture

Evelyn Nesbit has appeared as a star. The play calls for emotional acting of the first order, and Miss Nesbit answers this call admirably, in the role of a Hawaiian Princess. Every expectation of the loyal friends she has made here in previous successes was fulfilled. The last showings are being tonight.

"Miss Adventure."

Peggy Hyland, whose music, but it took her a long time to get used to acting for the screen to the strains of melody. While she was taking pictures for William Fox at East New Jersey, Peggy did all her acting without the aid of music, but when she went to California she found it was the fashion to have music while each scene was being filmed.

Because of Peggy's love of her troubles. The orchestra insisted on playing jazz music, just as it was noise. Peggy could not stand such music. So during the making of her first picture, "Miss Adventure," Miss Hyland insisted the musicians to play. Love in Hollywood and place, but they play everything the wrong way. When they had finished Peggy decided to do the only music made used for a picture, and a piece of the story of the picture. Miss Adventure is announced to be loans to love Rodney Heith, a sugar planter whom she had met on board a steamship. Her raised husband turns up in Hawaii where he is conspiring with a German agent to burn up sugar cane plantations. He kidnaps his wife and imprisons her in a hut where she learns of the plot and frustrates it. Mertons is fatally burned and dies at his wife's feet leaving her free to marry the man she loves. The last showings are being tonight.

Charles Ray.

Our California way they're giving the vigorous hand clasp of congratulation to a tall, good looking youth who is one of those rare persons that you read about as having "sprung into fame overnight." His name is "Charles" Ray. Until a short time ago, he was just 12. He is now 15. His name, linked from week to week, with the photo dramas that were not of the two dollar variety, simply shared the popularity that was enjoyed by hundreds of others in his profession.
"Charles" Ray needed an opportunity by which to exercise that he could get. He had just such a part as that of Frank White in "The Crowd" which, wonderful this recognition, won him many friends. Ray was fitted to the part. The part was fitted to him. Thus, if he is in with "The Crowd," keep Ray in mind.
Thinking with "Charles" Ray is a refreshing as watching him on the screen. He is one of those rare and unspoiled youths who make you believe from the moment they appear on the screen that they are really maintaining that belief.
To date Mr. Ray has made for Paramount four splendid pictures all of them under the direct supervision of Thos. H. Ince himself. "The Son of the strike. He said the relations between the men and the company was always pleasant and cordial and that the majority of the men had been in the company since the strike began, but that it was a matter of self-curing more wages owing to the increased cost of living and the men were still hopeful that some arrangement could be made to meet their demands.

The strike will soon be felt by the whole city for as fast as trouble occurs it will continue to pile up and unless the men return home after phone will go out of commission until the whole system will be practically tied up paralyzing the entire business and commercial life of the city. All fire alarms are now sent in by telephone as the old fire alarm system has been abolished and as there is but a small percentage of subscribers over the other system it may mean much in case of fire in the residential districts.

The court decision yesterday gives the company the right to collect the increased rate under government control but the city could enjoy its collection when it passes from such control which may be from one to six months. The local company therefore does not feel that it is justified in meeting the men's demands unless they have some assurance from the city authorities that the rate continues.

HOW TO ACQUIRE HAIR BEAUTY

You can enjoy a delightful shampoo with very little effort and for a trifling cost, if you get from your druggist's a package of canthrox and dissolve a teaspoonful in a cup of hot water. This makes a full cup of shampoo liquid, enough so it is easy to apply it all the hair instead of just the top of the head. Your shampoo is now ready. Just pour a little at a time on the scalp and hair until both are entirely covered by the foaming preparation. The canthrox thoroughly dissolves and removes every bit of dandruff, excess oil and dirt. After rinsing the hair dries quickly with a fluffiness that makes it seem heavier than it is, and takes on a rich luster and a softness that makes arranging it a pleasure.

Readers' Viewpoint

About Atlantic City.
Editor Advocate.—We are having such a fine, profitable time that I hesitate which I shall write about as it has all been so interesting to me, and nowadays when a laddie or a lassie writes a letter home and it gets into the hands of a local newspaper man it "sure do get in the papers," and since I promised to write so many letters home and have had so little time to do it, I'll trust to luck and permit you to publish it. (Be sure to mark it "censored").

The most interesting thing in this sunken city by the sea is its wild-famous boardwalk. In fact, all that is interesting is stretched along the boardwalk or plankwalk bolted to steel framework which is set to a great depth in cement and is six miles long by 100 feet wide.

Here the crowds of visitors congregate to see and be seen and to get an unobstructed view of the ocean and the ships that sail by in the daytime, or "the ships that pass at night," and they do come within easy and plain sight of the shore.

The sightseer is fortunate that not all are of one mind about their search for amusement, for he could not get his individual share of it in a year of such weather as we are now having.

Here are the bathers and the fishers enjoying themselves in the breakers on the beach, the children playing in the clean white sand; the sick and tired or those too lazy to walk, rolling along the boardwalk in wheel chairs pushed by indifferent chaps who might be galley slaves; all sorts of amusements, games and outdoor sports for the young and the old. Shops, stores and people one could find nowhere else without encircling the globe, and offering goods from the finest imported stuffs to the shoddyest of the 5-cent stores, of which there are two large ones so far apart that they divide the trade. Art stores that rival the stores of the largest cities. Oriental shops where you may buy for long price, by auction, or give for a prize in a game of ping-pong, ske-ball, throw a coin at what you expect to win. The ball-pitcher may also test his skill at curving the ball and the sharp-shooter may prove his skill by shooting at big and little game in a movie when they jump and play, run or fly as in life. You may even shoot at fish, sealions or polar bears in the water; birds of large and smaller size flying over land and sea or resting on the water or on the tree. There are also the Every thing brings you a prize, such as it is.

The architecture is as varied and beautiful as are the uses to which the buildings are put.

If large, beautiful hotels, well lighted by day and by night, elegantly furnished and new, all of which are necessary to a convention city, then Atlantic City is certainly the convention city of the world. You are well fed and housed according to your wish or ability to pay. Now is the city wanting in convention halls? They are to be found on the steel pier, of which there are half a dozen reaching far out into the surf and large enough to hold any national convention of any sort whatsoever.

There is also a good natural museum on the boardwalk. Beautiful churches there are, of every denomination, only short distances back from the sea. A Y. M. C. A., an Elk home, and a K. of C. home that would do credit to larger cities. The uplift of the spirit, which the citizens are proud and deservingly so.

A whole fleet of aeroplanes and hydro-aeroplanes ply the air and go their manœuvre daily playing their pranks or advancing on each other in single combat, playing for advantage and even coming down with the sea and sailing off like motor boats. Some of them carry passengers to New York and to Philadelphia, or sightseers over the city and the inlet.

This has been a week for two large conventions—the American Federation of Labor and the annual gathering of made one wish to be a member of one of the other organizations present and glad to be one or a member of a family of a member of these organizations. All you needed was the badge of the order and almost anything was free, which others had to pay to see and they had detectors at the gates to make trouble for the importer and to prevent the member who had to register his name, home address and hotel after presenting his credentials at the registration office.

The papers have kept you posted on what was done in the labor convention and the proceedings of the victory meeting of the medical convention were too technically professional for me to attempt to describe, but everyone was allowed to visit their scientific and commercial exhibits which were most interesting. I would gladly give you a description of the ones most interesting to the common people but that would more than double this already long letter. Perhaps some one of the doctors who were in attendance at this meeting has already given you a letter on the proceedings of the doctors' meeting.

I am missing the home news and I am waiting patiently for word from home or a Newark paper.

YOUNGER'S POLISHED MONUMENTS

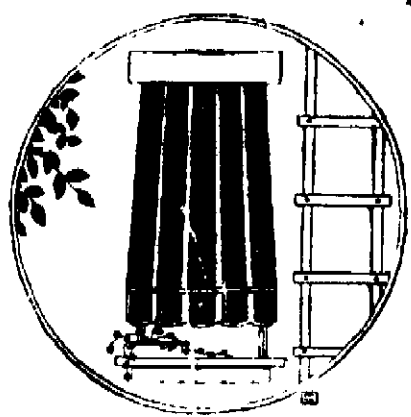

Visit any cemetery and examine the polished monuments. You will find them varying in gloss and the permanency of the color. Even the finest quality of granite is easily ruined by being burned in the polishing process. Getting a "quick shine" to save a few dollars means the use of an excessive amount of heat, which in a few years of exposure turns the color of the granite and ruins the polish.

Visit our show rooms before ordering your work and learn more of the benefit you derive from careful buying.

FINDS APPROVAL IN HOLY BIBLE FOR C. OF C. IDEA

Minister Interprets John's
Ideal City As Well Organized One.

Its Twelve Gates Are Invitations For People To Become Citizens.

Declaring that the Bible outlined for the first time plans for the ideal city and that there is in the Book of Revelation full endorsement of the idea of community organization, Rev. Benjamin R. Weld, pastor of the Second Presbyterian church Sunday made an appeal to the members of his church to join the movement and give their support to the plan for a better city.

Rev. Mr. Weld took his text from Revelation 21:16, also taking his scripture reading from that chapter of the Bible. He developed his idea through-out his discourse that John's description of the ideal city was in keeping with the present day conception of a well-organized, well equipped flourishing city in which its citizens sacrificed something for the general welfare of the community.

"In the campaign which is to be waged during the next few days for a better and larger city other grounds of appeal will no doubt be used," said Mr. Weld. "But this morning, I am not going outside of this point to address you. I wish to clothe myself with all the spiritual and religious robes of my office and as a minister speak to Christian men that as Christian men you may better appreciate your duty in the present movement."

"There was a time when the church would not have anything to do with anything so secular as the commercial affairs of the community and com-mercial institutions would have nothing to do with the church. The war has dragged us down into the valley, where men see more truly sometimes than on the mountain top and there we have all been covered with the grim and the gore of a common fight and there we lost the distinctions which separated us."

"I do not know to what degree the magnitude and commercial inter-ests are going to come out of that experience to help the church but as far as this church is concerned I know that this church is not going to forget that God has placed in the plan of the city in the interest of a common service for this community and for human life in this community."

"I am here this morning to sell you as Christian men to this proposition of a larger and better Newark through the agency of an enlarged Chamber of Commerce."

"I could appeal to your self-interest as churchmen. What institution will get more out of a concerted and organized propaganda which will make Newark a better and a larger place? There is not an organization which is more sensitive to local conditions than the church. We are not surrendering our faith in the ability of the church to be a leaving influence in any condition but its effect is multiplied by a legitimate and hearty cooperation with any agency that has laudable purposes."

"I appeal for your support of this movement because its efforts run parallel with that of the church. But my special appeal is to you as Christian men this morning is because of the contribution which the church through its members has for such community projects as the proposed Chamber of Commerce working for a larger and better Newark."

"If the church has not something definite to offer to every legitimate community effort then there is a sin-ful waste of capital in all these church properties. We had better turn all our churches into garages and gymnasiums and places where our young people can dance and the masses to the much needed supply of housing facilities for men who have a real and needed serv-ice to render to the community."

"Christ did not say that the Church was a place where a few could get enough salt to merely preserve them long enough to tide them through the winter weather of life's summer. Christ said that the church should be a salt mine with enough salt to pre-serve and season the community."

"A great many people read the Book of Revelation as a picture of what the future world is to become. And that is the reason why no two people agree on what it teaches. Do you want to make the Book of Revelation a practical book and more easily understood? Make it what it was meant to be by a practical God—a picture of what this world can become if Christians will only re-member that they became Christians not simply to live in this world as to make sure of another."

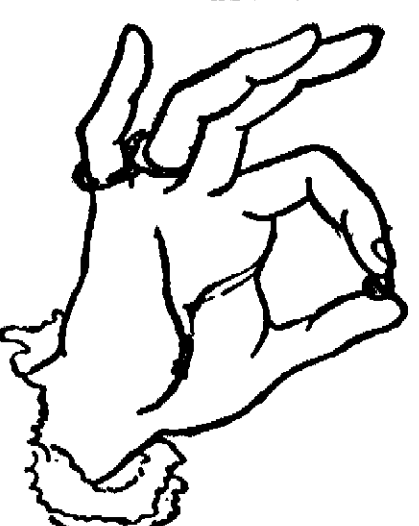

"Let me give you a picture out of that book with a world interpretation. And let me urge upon you this conception that you can visualize this city which John describes and go in with your fellow men to make Newark like it you Christian men will have your contribution which every man will appreciate in that it is only the main detail of this picture."

"The city is four-square. It is walled in. That means organization. Did you Christians ever appreciate this that when you desire or fail to organize your community you desert the church. Where is there an organization which puts more stress upon the legitimacy and necessity of organization? If you believe in organization of the varied forces of this congregation for effec-tive, why should not the community with its greater variety of forces be organ-ized and you in that organization?"

"The walls were four in number. How significant and inclusive that is of the

Doesn't hurt a bit

A few cents buys a tiny bottle of the magic Freezone, any drug store. Apply a few drops of Freezone upon a tender, aching corn or a callus. Instantly that troublesome corn or callus stops hurting, then shortly you lift it out, root and branch, without any pain, soreness or irritation. These little bottles of Freezone contain just enough to rid the feet of every hard corn, soft corn, corn between the toes and the calluses on bottom of feet. So easy! So simple. Why wait? No humbug! (Adv.)

modern city. Here are the four walls of the city which alone can function as a successful city—manufacturing inter-ests, commercial institutions, institu-tions, institutional organizations and professional life. The purpose of the Chamber of Commerce is to build these four walls line to line.

"This city is equipped. Pavements of gold. There is appreciation of the nec-essity of intercourse and communication in that ideal city and it is wasted to the extent that it is worth gold to make those streets possible. The city is well lighted. That the service be absolutely adequate and dependable. Christ is the light. The city must have water—and the stream of life flows through it. Sanitation is evi-dently not neglected for there is no sickness there or death there."

"You have organized this church so as to live in such a city after a while—why not take this picture of a good city and join the Chamber of Com-merce and put this proposition through for Newark?"

"There were twelve gates in the city walls which John saw. That meant a city which is out for more people and more business."

"How will some of you people ever get into the Celestial City if it is con-structed as you would like this city to be. You believe in a gateless city. You claim that we have enough busi-ness, enough people here. More peo-ple will raise rents. More factories will make the labor proposition more in-volved. More stores will mean less trade for you."

"Listen to John's description of an ideal city. On the east three gates, on the west three gates, on the north three gates, and on the south three gates. "And not only gates but each gate was always open. John lived before the day of the German, "Verboten" and we who live after a great war which has destroyed that hated idea of the wall, should not forget it. John's idea of the ideal city was so cosmopolitan that all nations could and would be dwelling in it."

"But that is not all. John says that each gate was a great pearl. The most beautiful so as to attract and most significant. The pearl is formed by suffering. You know how the pearl is formed in the shell. Let us learn of the lesson of that mutual co-operation which costs us something is the price of the ideal city here, it is the sheerest hypocrisy for us to sing of such a city there."

"I know of no constituency which should be more responsive to this new movement than you Christian men. If it were primarily a campaign for money this would be true. But this movement is not for money but for truth. Thus have I come to this morning that you may this coming week invest your Christian manhood for a Newark worthy of the new world into which Christ has brought us already."
